The first annual Mississippi Heroes Festival drew a huge crowd to Commagere Park in Bay St. Louis on Saturday to honor Lt. Michael Boutte and Cayce Seal, as well as all law enforcement officers and first-responders on the Gulf Coast.

"I thought it was a fantastic tribute and the fact that so many people took time out of a very busy day to come honor these two men — and not only the ones who had their lives taken away, but also the ones who put their lives on the line to protect us and take care of us — it was very rewarding," event organizer Lonnie Falgout said.

Falgout is the executive director of the Alice Moseley Folk Art & Antiques Museum, which joined with the Hancock County Tourism Bureau and the Mississippi Heroes foundation to host the event.

"It is just great to see everybody coming together in the community and recognizing those who go above and beyond and help others every day," Mississippi Heroes Executive Director Katherine Sutton said.

While the event honored all law enforcement, fire/rescue, front-line healthcare workers and others, it paid special tribute to Hancock County Lt. Deputy Michael Boutte, Sr., who died in the line of duty in February 2021; and Cayce Seal, a Bay St. Louis native and Entergy lineman, who died in a tragic accident on the job last June.

The highlight of the event were the awards handed out in the two men's names, as well as a scholarship in Boutte's name.

The Cayce Seal award went to Hancock County Sheriff Ricky Adam; the Michael Boutte Award went to Cayce's dad, Doug Seal, who is also a Bay St. Louis City Councilman.

The scholarship — $4,000 — went to Cayce's two-year-old son.

"We wanted to give this little boy who lost his daddy something to help him start his life," Falgout said.

"The Cayce Seal Award was really justified because of how

State and local officials gathered Wednesday at the Hancock County Supervisors meeting hall in Bay St. Louis to unveil a Mississippi highway marker honoring the late Lt. Deputy Michael Anthony Boutte, Sr.

During the 2021 Legislative Session, House Bill 424 — introduced by state Rep. Brent Anderson — was signed into law. It designated part of Hwy. 603 as the "Lieutenant Deputy Michael Anthony Boutte, Sr., Memorial Highway."

Boutte was killed in the line of duty on Feb. 1, 2021, after responding to a call in the Nacaise Community.

Friends and family of the late Jordan Wayne Goff met at the softball field in "Backatown" Bay St. Louis on Monday to release blue and silver balloons in his memory.

Goff, 24, and his friend Ashuri Nicholas Patton, 26, were both shot in the early morning hours last Thursday in Waveland.

"Waveland officers were dispatched to the 300 block of Hargett Street in reference to a shooting," at around 1:54 a.m. Thursday, April 21," Waveland Police Chief Mike Jordan Goff was killed last Thursday in Waveland.

Waveland adopts new redistricting map

The city of Waveland's new redistricting map.

The Waveland Board of Mayor and Aldermen on Monday adopted a new redistricting map.

The city voted to accept the new ward map named "Redistricting Plan April 20, 2022."

Earlier in the month, the board heard a presentation from Butler Snow attorney Parker Berry about the redistricting process and Waveland's 2020 census results.

According to the 2020 census, Waveland's total population is 7,201, Berry said, and the ideal population — divided by four — is 1,803 people. The goal is to get roughly within the plus-or-minus-five percent leeway, 1,800 in each of Waveland's four wards.

Last Wednesday, the board hosted a preliminary hearing where the two maps were presented.

The maps were completed by the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District and the Gulf Regional Planning Commission.

Prior to Wednesday's vote on the matter, the board heard from the public.

Waveland resident Clarence Harris, who lives in Ward 2, expressed concerns about the maps.

"Last Monday, I was invited to come to the city to review the maps," he said. "Five people came. We had the original and Map A (Redistricting Plan April 20, 2022) we didn't have the alternate (Redistricting Plan April 20, 2022 Alternative 1). Two days later at the meeting, we had alternate one. The problem that I really have with this is that I was invited to come and look at these maps, no one was there to answer questions or to guide us in any kind of way."

Harris said that the second map, which is Alternative 1, had the "blacks moved around with the numbers."

"Everybody in this room pretty much knows that Ward 2 is probably the only ward that a minority would run in," he said. "We understand that, we know that. To move 133 minorities from Two (ward) to One (ward) on the second map to get a larger

Waveland appoints Kimberly Adam-Boushie as new comptroller

Kimberly Adam-Boushie is Waveland’s new comptroller.

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

Last week, the Waveland Board of Mayor and Alderman approved the hiring of Kimberly Adam-Boushie as the city’s new comptroller. Boushie was born and raised in Waveland. She is married to David and they have four sons and one granddaughter, she said. She completed her education with an MBA, which includes several hours of continuing education with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), the State of Mississippi, and auditing firms. “I can’t wait to get started with Tammy and the accounting team of Waveland,” Boushie said Wednesday. “Together, I know we can improve financial reporting for our aldermen and mayor so they can focus on the improvement of our city.” Boushie’s annual salary is $55,000. Boushie replaces former comptroller Ron Duckworth who resigned earlier this year.

DH Election Commission finalizes slate of candidates for Wards 2, 3

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

The Diamondhead Election Commission met in special session on Thursday to certify candidates for the non-partisan special municipal election for the Ward 2 and Ward 3 city council seats. Three candidates qualified in Ward 2, including David Hart, Anna Demarco Liese and former Ward 3 Councilman Ricky Sheppard. Four candidates qualified for the Ward 3 race: John J. Cumberland, Jesse Flies, former Councilwoman Jamie Wetzel Moran and Carl L. Necaise. Special counsel Malcolm Jones advised election commissioners during the process Wednesday. Jones said that all of the candidates had submitted petitions with the proper number of certified Diamondhead voters’ signatures, and that all of them had been cleared in extensive background checks. There were initial questions about the viability of the candidacy of Hart and Sheppard in Ward 2 — Hart had previously lived in Pass Christian, but was able to submit paperwork proving he had lived in Diamondhead for the required two years in order to qualify; and Sheppard stepped down from his Ward 3 seat to run for the Ward 2 position because he and his family are in the process of moving into Ward 2. However, records indicate that Sheppard closed on the new property on Wednesday, April 20, clearing the way for him to run for the Ward 2 seat. The non-partisan special election will be held at the Diamondhead Community Center, located at 5300 Diamondhead Circle. The poll will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. on Tuesday, May 10. If no candidate in an election receives a majority of the votes cast, the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes will have a run-off election to be held three weeks later. Absentee voting will begin as soon as the ballots are printed, city officials said, hopefully by next Tuesday.

The film industry returned to Hancock County on Monday, with both exterior and interior scenes shot at the historic Hancock County Courthouse for the upcoming television movie “Lineage.”

Produced by Hillionaire Productions, LLC, which has offices in Clinton, Miss. and Orlando, Fla., “Lineage” is being directed by and will star Victoria Rowell, perhaps best known for her long-running role on “The Young and the Restless.”

Rowell directed “Behind the Smile - The Hat-tie McDaniel Story,” for Hillionaire Productions last year.

Monday’s filming involved a scene with a group of motorcycle riders pulling up to the courthouse, and a “Kansas County” sheriff’s car getting involved in the proceedings.

Some filming will also reportedly occur at the Hancock County Jail.

“They don’t really come in and give you a lot of details,” Hancock Chancery Clerk Tim Kellar, who has acted as the county’s liaison for the production, said Monday.

Kellar said the production team first came to Hancock County at the behest of Bill Webb of the Mississippi Development Authority.

Webb’s job “is to go find these locations and then match these movie makers up with these locations,” Kellar said, “and Bill has always said the Hancock County Courthouse deserves to be in a movie, and they came and looked at it and said, ‘Yes, indeed, this is exactly the place we’re looking for.’”

Kellar said the production team came to town “two or three weeks ago, and just went on the tour, going around everywhere.”

“They’re going to pay the county some money for doing it, and it promotes Hancock County. I certainly think it’s a win/win.”

Naomi Jackson from Bolton, Miss., and Cassandra Burnett from Jackson, were extras on the set during Monday’s filming.

Both women got involved because their husbands are in a motorcycle club in Jackson, and were recruited for the production.

“I’ve never done anything like this before,” Jackson said. “I’m very excited.”

Burnett said the same.

Both said they were enjoying their time in Bay St. Louis so far.

Lauren Parkinson, who lives in Jackson, is serving as the production assistant on the shoot.

“Mississippi has been doing pretty well, as far as the film industry goes,” Parkinson said

Monday. “I’ve been working in film since last May, and I’m already at six or seven movies now.”

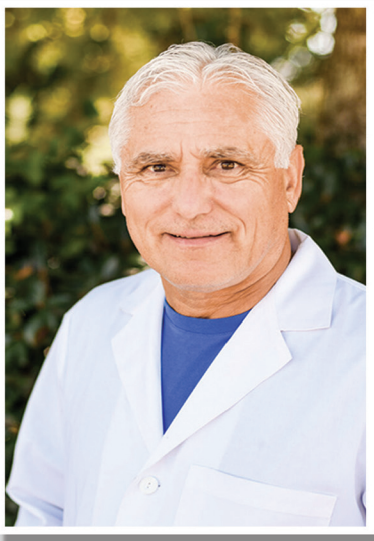

Parkinson said the production will continue in the Bay through Wednesday, with more scenes to be shot in Biloxi and Gulfport over the next week.

Kellar said “Lineage” may serve as a pilot, meaning that if it performs well once it airs, it might be picked up as a continuing series.

DWGAN Golfing News from March of 2022

BY SHIRLEY HALTERMAN

While weather was still a problem in March, we did manage to get in some of our scheduled rounds. With Mississippi’s Spring on the horizon, we are looking forward to the ability to get in more of our regular competitions.

Tuesday, March 1st, brought a return to our regular first Tuesday Trophy Day. We all donned our Mardi Gras beads and masks, and twenty six gals played the front nine of the Cardinal Course. The winners were as follows: LOW GROSS WINNERS were: Flight One - 1st Place, Therese Mauterer and 2nd Place, Ann Nutting. Flight Two - 1st Place, Shirley Halterman and 2nd Place, Nancy Sislow. Flight Three - 1st Place, Mary Murray and 2nd Place, Pattie Blackwood. As to the LOW NET WINNERS, Flight One - 1st Place, Toni Rossol and 2nd Place, Judy Tauzin. In Flight Two - 1st Place went to Brigitte Becker and 2nd Place to Sue Hebert. Flight Three - 1st Place was taken by Cathy Gesell and 2nd Place by Dinah Knobloch. When it came to the LOW PUTT competition, Flight One produced a tie between Mary Alice Harfoush and Therese Mauterer with each scoring only 15 putts in the nine-hole round. In Flight Two, Nancy Sislow took the honors with 17 putts. And in Flight Three Mary Craig Murray won with only 11 putts. Great job gals! For the LONGEST DRIVE, the Flight 1 winner was Therese Mauterer, Flight 2 honors went to Brigitte Becker, and Flight 3 best drive went to Mary Craig Murray. In the CLOSEST-TO-THE-PIN competition, Ann Nutting took 1st place (in two shots) for Flight

1:Margaret Sherwood came closest in Flight 2; and Dinah Knobloch took the honors in Flight 3. Not to be left out, Brigitte Becker, Judi Brannan, Mary Alice Harfoush and Mary Craig Murray all had CHIP INS. By the way, Mary Alice Harfoush scored a BIRDIE on the 7th hole.

Our Annual Founders Day Tournament was scheduled for March 8th only to be rescheduled for the following Tuesday, March 15, because of the threat of rain.

While 20 gals signed up to try and play the Founders Tournament, once again the weatherman had other ideas and again this game had to be rescheduled.

On Tuesday, March 22, we tried again to the the Tournament; however, with a 93% chance of rain in the forecast, yet again it was rescheduled. As of this writing, it is supposed to be played on Tuesday, April 5th. Check in next month to see if the fourth time is the charm and we actually get to play the Founders Tournament.

Well, low and behold (maybe because we rescheduled the Founders Tournament to the month of April), Tuesday, March 29, finally was a playable day. Our game for the day was a team Schamble played on the back nine holes of the Cardinal course. This format allows each 4-member team to select the best drive on each hole, and then each player continues to play out their own ball from this drive point. The First Place Team was composed

Kiln teen drowns in “blue hole”

An 18-year-old Kiln resident died on Sunday afternoon while swimming with friends at a so-called “blue hole.”

“The kids were swimming and one of them ... didn’t come back up,” Hancock County Coroner Jeff Hair said.

The swimming hole they were using, Hair said, was more of a “dirt-pit lake,” located off Kiln-Picayune Road near Horseshoe Road, in the Stennis Buffer Zone.

“There are several what people call ‘blue holes,’ along the interstate, places where they’ve excavated dirt for roadwork, etc.,” Hair said.

Stallings’ body was recovered by a dive team, Hair said, which included officers of the Hancock County Sheriff’s Office, the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources and the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

Aydin’s friends mourned him on social media Sunday.

“You will never know how much you meant to us, we loved you like you were a part of us little man ...” Ashlyn Rubinsak said on Facebook. “We miss you already.”

• SHOOTING

Prendergast said in a press release. “Upon arrival, officers discovered two people had been shot. Both victims were transported to area hospitals and one victim succumbed to his injuries.”

Patton, shot in the arm, was in stable condition, but still hospitalized as of Monday, Prendergast said.

Later on Thursday, police arrested Antonio Orlando Reed II, of Bay St. Louis, charging him with one count of murder and one count of aggravated assault – manifesting extreme indifference to human life.

Reed was being held without bond with an initial court date scheduled for June 23.

On Friday, Antwine Q. James turned himself

Antwine Q. James

in to the Waveland Police Department. He was charged with one count of murder and one count of aggravated assault. He is being held without bond at the Hancock County Justice Facility.

Prendergast said that Goff and Reed had apparently had recently had a disagreement.

“Apparently it’s been an ongoing thing between them — they had gotten into it earlier at the casino. Then they went their separate ways, and then Goff was posting on Facebook he was going to be riding in the neighborhood. ... As they came down the road, the two guys (Reed and James) apparently unloaded on them.

“After they got shot, they went a couple of houses down and their car ran into another residence.

“To our knowledge, they were not armed.”

While transporting the victims to Ochsner Medical Center - Hancock in Bay St. Louis, one of the AMR ambulances collided with a Hancock County sheriff’s deputy who was escorting them.

“They had two ambulances transporting two shooting victims,” Hancock County Sheriff Ricky Adam said, “so (law enforcement officials) were running escort. My guy was in the lead, and he passed up the turn-off on the highway ... instead of turning into the hospital, the ambulance hit him broadside, I’m not really sure why.”

Adam said at least two AMR employees were injured, and the deputy suffered “a broken rib, and maybe some extra air in his chest cavity. He was transported to Forrest General just for observation.”

Anyone with information about the shooting is asked to contact the Waveland Police Department at 228-467-3669 or Crimestoppers at 1-877-787-5898.

much Sheriff Adam stepped up when Michael Boutte died. He stepped up and did what Cayce always did — taking care of people.

“The one that really meant the most to me — we sat back and talked about people, how they’re raised with certain traits, the lives they live — and I don’t think anyone exemplifies Michael Boutte and his work on behalf of people as much as Doug Seal does.

“Doug and (his wife) Michele and their families always participate in things, from Special Olympics to anything else this community needs, so I think it worked out extremely well and justified.”

Falgout said he wanted to thank everyone involved in Saturday’s even, including Mississippi Heroes and Katharine Sutton, all the vendors, and especially Hot Tails for providing the crawfish.

The event also featured an antique car show, hosted by Terry Poore and the Misfits Street Krewzers; live music by Joni Compretta & Baytown Groove, Monsters at Large, the Glory Rhodes Band and the St. Rose Gospel Choir; a Pastalaya/Jambalaya Cookoff sponsored by Champion Dodge; and a superhero 5K race.

Bay woman jailed for alleged meth trafficking

ECHO STAFF

Authorities this week arrested a Bay St. Louis woman for allegedly trafficking methamphetamine.
On Sunday, “Hancock County Narcotics Agents were conducting an investigation into drug trafficking activities in the 800 block of Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis,” Sheriff Ricky Adam said in a press release Wednesday. “At approximately 8 a.m., a Bay St. Louis Police patrol sergeant conducted a traffic stop of a 2018 Dodge Caravan after witnessing the vehicle commit a traffic violation on U.S. Hwy. 90 near Bouslog Street. A search resulted in the recovery of approximately 71 grams of methamphetamine “ice” and the arrest” of Nichole Kreeger, 33.
Jail records show Kreeger was charged with one count of sale or possession with intent to sell a controlled substance, meth; one count of tampering with physical evidence; one count of disorderly conduct — failure to comply with command of law enforcement. She was still being held on Thursday morning in lieu of $55,000 in bonds.

“A passenger in the vehicle, Chad Ladner, 33, of Bay St. Louis, was arrested on an outstanding escape warrant from the Mississippi Department of Corrections,” Adam said.

The Hancock County Sheriff’s Office Narcotics Division is comprised of agents from the Hancock County Sheriff’s Office and the Bay Saint Louis and Waveland Police Departments. Sheriff Adam encourages the public to report drug activity by calling his office at 228-466-6900 or Mississippi Coast Crime Stoppers at 1-877-787-5898.

Gov. Tate Reeves Signs Ban on COVID-19 Vaccine Mandates and Passports

JACKSON, Miss. – Last week, Governor Tate Reeves announced the signing of House Bill 1509, which bans public institutions and agencies from discriminating against individuals based on their COVID-19 vaccination status.
“Throughout the pandemic, I’ve encouraged Mississippians to consult with their doctor, study the facts, and decide what’s best for them and their families,” said Governor Tate Reeves. “I’ve made clear that government shouldn’t be in the business of forcing Americans to choose between the COVID-19 vaccine and putting food on their tables, sending their kids to school, or visiting a small business. I’m proud to sign this legislation which protects Mississippians’ medical and religious freedoms.”
The legislative ban on COVID-19 vaccine mandates extends to state agencies, public officials, state institutions of higher learning, public community or junior colleges, county, municipality, and other political subdivisions.
The law stops these entities from barring individuals from employment or discriminating against them in terms of compensation and other benefits.
The law ensures that students will not be forced to make a decision between receiving the COVID-19 vaccine and not being able to attend Mississippi colleges and universities.
It will also be illegal to require children to receive a COVID-19 vaccine as a condition of attending a school, kindergarten or similar type of facility intended for the instruction of children, whether public or private.
Additionally, House Bill 1509 ensures that employees who have a sincerely held religious objection to receiving a COVID-19 vaccine will not be required to receive one.

Raising Questions: Faith, Hope, Certainty, Doubt, and More

By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN

C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.

Those of us who engage in theological and/or philosophical reflection (and especially if we publish it) are often confronted with one of two challenges. On one extreme, it is not unusual to be questioned, or even derided, for taking such reflection seriously. The other position can be just as troubling, as it often assumes that such reflection only ends in the biased faith construct of the person who holds it. It is probably not a surprise to most people that neither set of assumptions provide accurate insight into the most effective ways to deal with complex issues. As far as we can tell, from almost the earliest expressions of the human conscience, there have been questions and reflections regarding our origins and whatever may exist beyond our tangible awareness. The wisest sages of history have grappled with this subject. Profound theories have been posited, difficult questions have been raised. Brilliant minds have labored over, and shared thoughts about, these significant issues which so often engage us. There does seem to be a sort of “common denominator” which resides at the center of these questions, and it is there that we might focus our thinking. Most healthy human beings are aware of some kind of “interior” life. This is the place within us where our deepest thoughts are held and our deepest questions arise. Many of us do not think of this as a religious experience, and in all honesty, it is not. However, it may reasonably be considered that this is the part of humanity which houses the spirit. Some of us call it “God”, but there are many other names and definitions by which it can be known. Out of this universal human reality have arisen many expressions, declarations, doctrines, and even fables which make claims of certainty about what is often collectively defined as God. Of course much of it can be, and has been, harmful. Wars have been waged in response to what someone has declared “the will of God”. Great injustices have been perpetrated in the name of such a deity. Social caste systems have been formed deciding whom to include and exclude. None of this can be fairly denied, nor should we try. It is also true that much good has resulted from the actions of persons who acted upon their perceptions of the “claims of God upon their lives”. Mouths have been fed, shelter has been provided, medical care has been made available, education, art, beauty, love, and community have flowed out of these convictions. There is trust that life lived in response to divine will is a way to find meaning in a confusing and often unfair world. Of course, nobody ever gets it all perfectly aligned. Mistakes are made. Good intentions are often swallowed by greed, avarice, or painful experience. Humanity often gets in the way of our best intentions. One writer wrote, “I have bumped my head so often and so hard in pursuit of faith”. Many of us can identify with that. Even so, the pursuit continues. Faith is a goal to seek, and seldom an accomplishment to brag about. In the end, it is valid to contemplate the questions, and maybe add a little prayer for wisdom and a more loving world.

white population in Two, I think it’s gerrymandering and I think that I never thought I would stand up here at this time and see this kind of tactics taking place.”

Harris said that both maps should have been made available to the public prior to last week’s meeting.

Ward 2 Alderman Bobby Richardson explained the reasoning behind the creation of the alternate map.

“I don’t look at the numbers, black, white, Hispanic, whatever” Richardson said. “I was looking at my Emerald Lake. All that area that I’m giving up, I’m giving up a lot of supporters actually, and I don’t care if they’re black, white, green, I’m still gonna work for who I’m gonna work for. It’s just I didn’t want to take across the highway and give up my Emerald Lake and the beach area too.”

Harris said he understood that. He said that maybe it “just so happened” that Ward 2 went from “24 percent minorities to 17 percent minorities.”

“Maybe that’s just a coincidence,” Harris said. “Maybe we got caught up into that.”

City attorney Malcolm Jones gave an explanation of his understanding as to how the alternate map came to be.

He said that Richardson and Ward 3 Alderman Shane LaFontaine reviewed maps with Berry and representatives from SMPDD and GRPC.

“It appeared they had consensus on Map A on Thursday, but by Tuesday (April 19), Mr. Richardson had continued to review the maps over the weekend and he contacted me and said that he did not realize that he was giving up the area of Emerald Lake and so he wanted to make changes,” Jones said.

Jones said that Richardson contacted Berry and representatives from SMPDD and GRPC who then created the alternate map.

“That was the first time it was brought forward and that was at the meeting,” he said. “There was no intent on the part of the aldermen or the mayor to try to deceive anybody, but Mr. Richardson wanted to have a different option to vote and so he had the right to ask for it. This board can either vote for the alternate map that he came up with or they can decide to stick with the original map, which is the ‘A’ map. A lot of work went into creating map number ‘A’ to make sure that it would have the least amount of impact on minorities in your ward and throughout the city. But again, every time you move the blocks around when you’re doing this, it has a major impact where once you change one thing, then it has an impact on the other side, as well. So it’s a very difficult task to do.”

Waveland’s benchmark mark, which was used prior to the city’s new map.

Richardson said he had “no intent.”

“Just to make this easier and simpler, we’re going to go with this map (A) right here because I had no intent of trying to gerry rig anything,” Richardson said. “I don’t care what the ethnics of the city, I’m still going to do my job for whoever I work for.”

Waveland resident Karen Singleton also spoke to the board and asked why the public wasn’t notified of the alternate map when it was completed.

Jones said the alternate map was created on the same day it was presented at the April 20 board meeting.

“It wasn’t created before that,” he said.

Jones added that he had complained to the GRPC about “having a map available to the public to see.”

“That was the whole reason to go ahead and give additional time for people to come forward and have comments about it,” Jones said. “A lot of effort went in to ensure there was no dilution or adverse impact on the minority population voting. I think Mr. Richardson now sees that what he did, with no intent to cause any problems, caused a lot of problems.”

Singleton said that going forward, there needs to be a better line of communication between the city and residents.

Harris said that the people who sit on the board have the final say on the maps.

“In my mind, that’s a bad thing, because if I’m designing something, I’m going to to keep it where I can have the advantage,” Harris said. “We ought to have a good citizens group to look over this, then the aldermen can look over it and we can all agree on it. But to have the aldermen have the advantage over citizens and say ‘I don’t want this line moved because I’m going to lose some votes and I’m going to lose some supporters.’ We’re going to always be in the thing, because anybody that’s elected up here, you’re pretty much controlling whether you stay in office or whether you don’t stay in, because you are the ones who put your lines where you want them to be.”

Richardson said that it is not his intention to deny someone the right to vote.

“Because I didn’t even look at the numbers of the black, white, Hispanic, I just looked at the area,” he said. “I didn’t really care about numbers.”

The board unanimously approved Redistricting Plan April 20, 2022, referred to as ‘Map A’ throughout Monday’s meeting.

The new numbers for each ward as follow: In Ward 1, the population is 1,796, which is seven or .39 percent below the ideal population number. In Ward 2, the population is 1,911 which is 108 or 5.99 percent above the ideal population number. In Ward 3, the population is 1,594, which is 209 or 11.59 percent below the ideal population number. In Ward 4, the population is 1,909, which is 106 or 5.88 percent above the ideal population number.

The population by race is as follows: Ward 1 is 85.03 percent white; 5.92 percent black; and 4.45 percent Hispanic. Ward 2 is 64.87 percent white; 24.48 percent black; and 4.09 percent Hispanic. Ward 3 is 68.49 percent white; 21.3 percent black; and 4.18 percent Hispanic. Ward 4 is 80.94 percent white; 9.04 percent black, and 5.07 percent Hispanic.

Jones said he will have the ward lines set up to match the new map and an ordinance ready for adoption at the next regular meeting schedule for May 3, at 6:30 p.m.

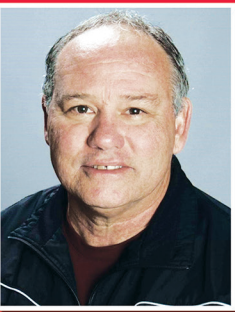

The reason for the rush is due to the delay of the Census data, Berry told the board last week.

He said the city engaged the services back in December.

“The data was delayed six months by the U.S. Census Bureau,” Berry told the board at last week’s hearing. “The official data didn’t come out until September. And as everybody knows, there’s a process to do this because you’re dealing with a lot of opinions, there’s a lot of legal requirements and there’s a lot of iterations and drafts that go in to try and develop to this point where you have two options to consider. It’s also a product of the city being a special chartered city where you have regular elections this year, where most cities, they had their elections last year, so they have considerable amount more time. And counties are next year, so they’re actually under the gun, too. But certainly Waveland and a handful of other chartered cities have elections this year.”

This handsome pup is Spiers, an 8 month old red and white Australian Cattle Dog mix. He is so much more mature than his age might indicate. He is very calm in the play yard, and first takes on the responsibility of using the "facilities" rather than his kennel. This may be an indication that he's house trained; however, that can never be guaranteed. Spiers quickly warms up to people and will seek affection and attention from his new friends, both human and canine. A doggy treat is a bonus for any of the tricks he might be inclined to perform. He is super adorable, and his stubbed tail seems to accent his freckled appearance. If you are looking for a sweet, kind, gorgeous dog to add to your family, please come and meet Spiers. You can stop by during our visiting hours, Mon-Fri 10am-3pm (Tues 1pm-3pm), or you may call our front desk at 228-466-4516 to schedule a meet-n-greet with Spiers. Please bring your dog(s) and children along for the visit to ensure compatibility.
